It is with a great deal of pride that I extend, to the officers and men of the Landing Force, my congratulations on a job well done. The people we met, in the many lands we visited, were obviously impressed with your conduct your friendliness and your professional military ability, all of which contributed immeasurably to a highly successful and memorable deployment. You have brought credit not only upon yourselves and our Corps, but most important of all, upon our country. I regret Lanformed 3-62 is over but I am sure wherever you go, you will long remember the Med cruise as a rich and rewarding experience.

PAUL G. GRAHAM
LIEUTENANT COLONEL
U. S. MARINE CORPS
COMMANDING

LT. COL. PAUL G. GRAHAM
Commanding

Lieutenant Colonel Paul G. Graham, U. S. Marine Corps, a veteran of over 18 years service, is currently serving as Commanding Officer, 1st Battalion, 2nd Marine Regiment, 2nd Marine Division, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, Camp Lejeune, North Carolina.

Lieutenant Colonel Graham first entered the regular Marine Corps in November 1943 and was commissioned as a second lieutenant in April 1944.

Shortly thereafter, he joined the 21st Marines as an infantry platoon leader for the Guam and Iwo Jima operations. After a tour in the Marine Barracks, New York Naval Shipyard, he spent two years on sea duty. Lt. Col. Graham then served as a Naval Ordnance and Gunnery Instructor at the Naval Academy.

In 1951 he attended the Junior Amphibious Warfare School at Quantico, Virginia. Upon graduation he was transferred to the 3rd Marine Division where he served as Aide to the Commanding General and later as Company Commander of Company C, 1st Battalion, 3rd Marines.

In 1954 he was transferred to the 1st Marine Division and was assigned as Company Commander of Company H, 3rd Battalion, 1st Marine Regiment.

After his return to the United States from Korea, he was assigned to the Basic School, Marine Corps Schools where he served as Company Commander and Assistant Operations Officer.

During 1957 and 1958 he attended Command and Staff School at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama and was later assigned as the Officer Selection Officer in New York.

In July 1961 he was transferred to the 2nd Marine Division where he commanded the 2nd Reconnaissance Battalion until June of 1962, when he assumed his present duties.

Lieutenant Colonel Graham, a native of New York state, attended the University of Richmond and holds a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Lt. Col. Graham's decorations include the following: Purple Heart Medal; Presidential Unit citation; China Service Medal; World War II Victory Medal; Navy Occupation Ribbon; American Campaign Medal; Asiatic Pacific Campaign Medal; National Service Defense Medal; Korean Service Medal and United Nations Service Medal.

Lieutenant Colonel Graham is married to the former Miss Margaret Evelyn Dunn. They have a daughter Maureen, and three sons; Scott, Brian and Kelley.

MAJ. KURT L. HOCH
Executive Officer

Major Kurt L. Hoch, BLT 1/2's Executive Officer, was in college when World War II broke out. Like many other young men at that time, he too volunteered for military service, by enlisting in the Marine Corps in 1942. Boot Camp at Parris Island, South Carolina came next, and through the V-12 program, an Officer Selection process of World War II, Major Hoch went to Quantico where he received a commission as a Second Lieutenant in 1944.

The Major went to Sea School at Portsmouth, Virginia, then was ordered to duty with the Marine Detachment, USS BON HOMME RICHARD (CV-31). He remained aboard for the duration of the war.

After the war came a transfer to Marine Barracks, Treasure Island, California, and a release to inactive status in April of 1946. Back in civilian life, the Major became an insurance broker. He was busy managing his own agency when the Korean conflict broke out.

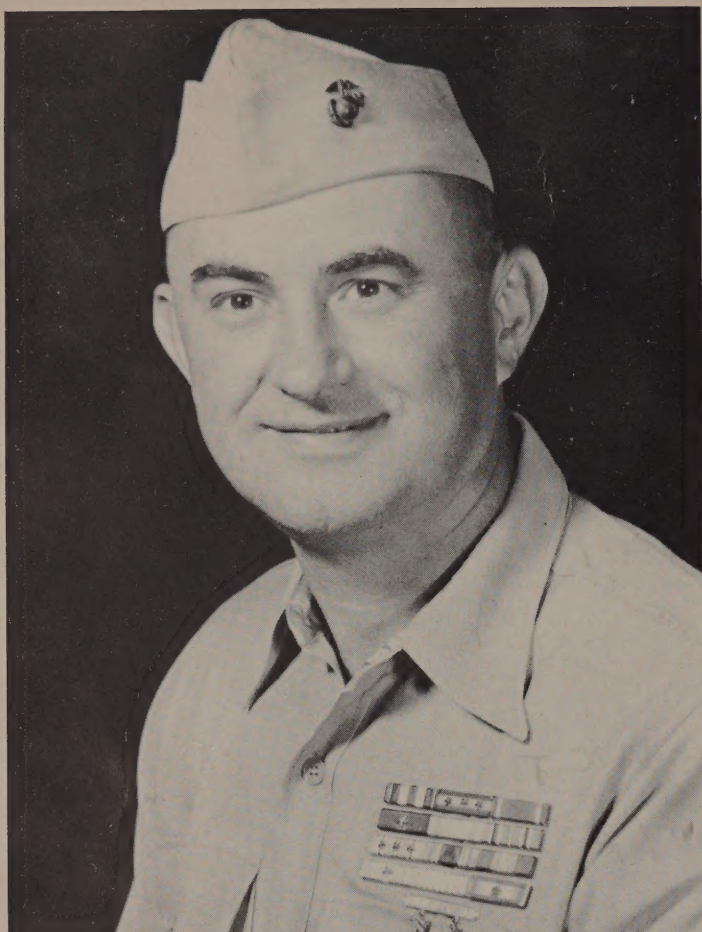

In June of 1951, the Major was again in uniform. He was ordered directly to Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, where he attended the Junior Amphibious Warfare School. December of 1951 found Major Hoch, then a Captain, at Camp Lejeune as CO, Co. F. 2/8. He later served as Battalion S-3 and S-4.

In March of 1954 Major Hoch was ordered to Japan where he became CO, Weapons Co. 1/4. He was Battalion S-3 there also. Hawaii called in 1955 when the Major went with the Fourth Marines to Hawaii as Asst. Regimental S-3. At this time the First Marine Brigade was just being formed in Hawaii.

Back in the States at the end of 1955, Major Hoch became Officer in Charge of the Marine Recruiting Station, Boston, Massachusetts. He served in this capacity until 1958, when he was sent back to his Alma Mater, Hamilton College in Clinton, New York. Back on campus through the Marine Corps College Degree Program, Major Hoch completed requirements for his BA Degree and graduated in January of 1959. From Hamilton the Major went to Alaska, where he served as CO, Marine Barracks, Adak.

In November 1960 Major Hoch went south to Camp Lejeune where he was assigned duty in Division G-3. In June of 1962 he assumed his present duties as Executive Officer, 1st Battalion, 2nd Marines.

Major Hoch married the former Martha Lee Phillips of Antioch, California. The Hochs and their two children, son Armand Lee and daughter Gretchen Anne, reside at Camp Lejeune.

STANLEY A. GLOGOWSKY
Sergeant Major

The ranking enlisted man in BLT 1/2, Sergeant Major Stanley A. Glogowsky, is one of the Battalion's finest examples of the "Old Breed".

Sgt/Maj. Glogowsky first entered the Marine Corps in 1940 and has served with them since that date. Shortly after enlisting, he was sent to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. In August of 1941, he was sent on temporary duty to New Orleans, where he helped train Navy personnel in boat operations. In August 1942, he was transferred to the Fourth Recon Company at Camp Lejeune, and served with that organization throughout World War II.

Like most Marines at this time, he served in the South Pacific where he participated in operations on Kwajalein Atoll, Eniwetok Atoll, Saipan, Tinian and Iwo Jima. He received a temporary commission following the Iwo Jima operation and served in this capacity until June 1946.

After World War II, he served various barracks tours in Philadelphia, Maine, Boston, Hawaii and the Marshall Islands. 1948 found him back at Camp Lejeune where he served until 1951. From September 1951 to August 1952 he served as first sergeant of Weapons Company of 1/7 during the Korean conflict.

After Korea and a tour at Little Creek, Va., he spent 1953 and 1956 on I&I in Chicago. From Chicago he was transferred to Okinawa and then back to Camp Lejeune where he served with 1/6. In November 1960, he was stationed at Eighth and Eye Streets, Washington D.C. He returned to Camp Lejeune in 1962 and was assigned to 1/2 as Battalion Sergeant Major.

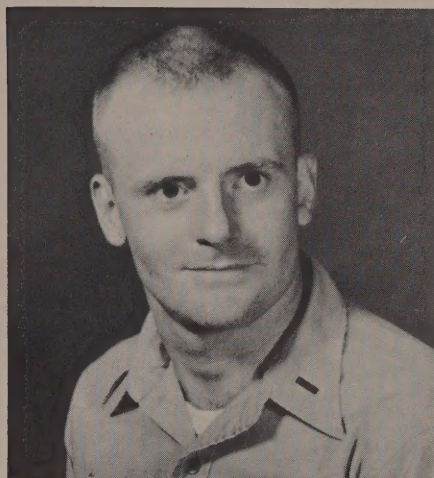

Sergeant Major Glogowsky's decorations include the following: Silver Star Medal; Presidential Unit Citation; Navy Unit Citation; Good Conduct Medal with 6 stars; American Defense Service Medal; Asiatic Pacific Campaign Medal; Victory Medal; National Defense Medal; Korean Service Medal; United Nations Service Medal; Korean Presidential Unit Citation.

Sergeant Major Glogowsky is married to the former Miss Janet Rigg from Philadelphia, Pa., and at the present they live at Camp Lejeune with their two sons, John and Lance.

Turnover — On October 5, 1962, BLT 1-2 officially became the Landing Force for the Sixth Fleet. Here Lt.Col. Graham, on the right, bids farewell to Lt.Col. R.T. Dwyer, CO of BLT 2-6.

Good-bye, — "If you find any empty C-ration cans on the beach, they're not ours," said Lt. Col. Dwyer in his farewell.

Hello — "We're ready to go," said Lt. Col. Graham after relieving Lt. Col. Dwyer. BLT 1-2 assumed duty as LANFORMED 3-62.

Change of Command

Good luck — After easing BLT 2/6's Colors, Sgt. Maj. Wayland Lake, right, of 2-6 wishes a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to BLT 1-2's Sgt. Major Glogowsky.

BOMBA LIBYA

From the Mountains of Corsica, the BLT went next into the Libyan Desert. During the time spent ashore, valuable experience was gained in the desert operations. The desert was great tank country, and the BLT used the armor to the fullest extent. Close air support was also well utilized.

Thus the infantry portion of the BLT made the most out of its opportunities to work with the vital supporting arms, and familiarize itself with a special kind of fighting -- desert warfare.

PILOS, GREECE

From the 10th to the 18th of December, 1962, the BLT trained in the rugged hills of Pilos, Greece.

In great contrast to Bomba, Libya, Pilos offered an abundance of terrain for such operations as mountain warfare and compass reading. A number of outstanding hike routes were charted, one of which went directly through the little town of Pilos.

Winding up the week-long operation with a field meet, the BLT looked back on another well-rounded training period.

PORTO SCUDO...

At Porto Scudo, Sardinia, the Landing Force test-fired all its weapons. From the Rifleman with the M-14 to the 8" self-propelled howitzer crew, all the BLT's personnel became more proficient in the use of their particular weapons.

Also, large-scale firing exercises with supporting naval air and warships were conducted, welding the Landing Force and other Sixth Fleet units into a group well prepared for any eventuality.

On the last landing of LANFORMED 3-62, the Landing Force concentrated on small unit training. It was a final re-emphasis of platoon and squad tactics, scouting and patrolling, map reading and other basic skills. The operation was cut short because of operational commitments, but this landing helped to retain the BLT's fine "training edge", and insured anew that we were really "combat ready".

HOMEcoming

It is actually a combination of all these things. On a LANFORMED deployment, you work hard, and play hard too.

Yet if you look beneath all the different things you did during our cruise, you'll find the real reason we were there: Readiness.

For almost six months, we were ready to fight if we had to. But we were ready also to work for peace. We were prepared to extend a helping hand to deserving peoples: we did this through the People-to-People program. We were ready to work with the armed forces of other nations to form a stronger, more well-balanced force to oppose aggression. We did this on every landing. We were ready to put our best foot forward at liberty ports to show that we were goodwill ambassadors. We did this every time we went ashore in a liberty uniform.

So our Med Cruise was really about six months of constant readiness. We never knew when we would be called on, and if we were called, we wouldn't know immediately what sort of task it was we would have to perform.

When you look back on the months between 18 Sept 62 and 7 March 63, you'll remember that no one fired a round in anger, no one landed on a foreign shore to actually engage an enemy in combat.

Yet we did our job, and did it well. How? Simply by helping to create a good impression of the United States in foreign countries; and most of all, by being ready.
